Nixon Is 'Acceptable,' Says Ike

NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—Yesterday we joined a select group of Americans who have ridden in an Ezetta.

This is a first-hand report of a ride in an auto that resembles a good-sized circus balloon on wheels.

The Ezetta we rode in is jointly owned by Harold Plautz, Prophetstown, an auctioneer and realtor, and Dr. W. F. Tyler, Prophetstown dentist.

Mr. Plautz brought the Ezetta to town yesterday after a comfortable 45-mile-an-hour cruise from his hometown. His machine was the center of attraction wherever it went. Plautz and Dr. Tyler bought the small auto in Munich, Germany, while both were on a European tour.

Plautz told us yesterday that the first time he laid eyes on the trim little machine, he remarked to Dr. Tyler, "Let's buy it."

The Ezetta, explains Plautz, a burly 240-pound gentleman who would seemingly be more at home in a truck cab, is of Italian design but that a German firm bought the patents and the auto is being manufactured in Germany.

"You can't go a block without seeing one of these small cars in Germany," observed Plautz.

He and Dr. Tyler bought the Ezetta for about $600, added some attachments and the entire tiny gadget arrived in the U.S. about a week ago at a cost of $900, including custom charges and shipping expenses.

Plautz said he had been told that there are only three of the Ezettas in America, which makes the number of Americans who have wiggled into the machine so small as to be select.

Plautz said that, of course, the machine is popular in Europe where gasoline is 75 cents a gallon and where the roadways are oftentimes narrow. We told him that we anticipated a sweep to smaller models in this country if gasoline costs continue to rise and motor cars continue to become more expensive. He agreed that the Ezetta's 60-100 miles per gallon mileage is an attractive feature. It has a rated top speed of about 60 miles an hour, Plautz told us.

The Ezetta seats two comfortably, too, we discovered when heavyweights Plautz and I stepped into the machine for a cruise around the downtown district. The one-cylinder, 13-horsepower engine sputtered occasionally but carried our bulk quite easily up Crawford Ave. east of the Telegraph office.

We turned westward on Second Street and then down Galena Avenue, acquiring a good-sized amount of stares from the motorists and pedestrians alike.

The Ezetta doesn't have the elegance of our motor cars. In fact, it chugs along with a slight pitching motion as if the front springs needed adjustment.

But the ride in the Ezetta was enough to awaken one's imagination concerning the possibilities of these small-type autos.

Attempts to Sell Diseased Meat; Pays $100 Fine

OREGON — (Special) — Walter Horst, Mt. Morris area farmer, was fined $100 and costs in Ogle County Court here Tuesday on a charge of attempting to sell meat from a diseased animal.

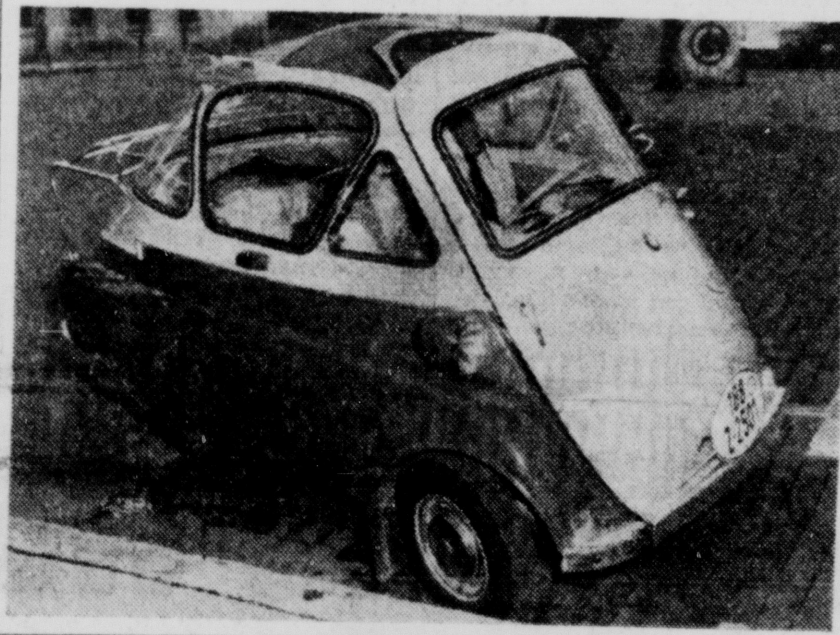

The complaint was filed against Horst by Fred J. Kersten, Amboy, of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, Division of Foods, Dairies and Standards.

Horst, according to the complaint, had offered for sale the meat from a diseased cow. He pleaded guilty to the charge and the fine was assessed by Judge Grover Gehant, of Lee County, sitting in court here for Judge Helen Rutkowski.

Above, Mr. Plautz is shown reclining in the two-passenger 14-horsepower machine which travels up to 60 miles an hour and more than 60 miles on a gallon of gasoline. Estes' Dropout Bolsters Adlai Heightens Hopes for Early Nomination in Convention

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Estes Kefauver's withdrawal appeared today to have heightened Adlai E. Stevenson's chances to win the Democratic presidential nomination again on an early convention ballot.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, however, maintained a show of confidence and some of his backers contended that his prospects had been improved despite Kefauver's appeal to his supporters to switch to Stevenson.

Will Support Adlai

Kefauver, in a surprise move, withdrew from the race late Tuesday and said that in the interest of Democratic unity and victory he would support Stevenson at the party convention opening in Chicago a week from Monday.

Stevenson said in Chicago he shares Kefauver's hope "that we Democrats, united by a common purpose, can soon close ranks and

Ike Is 'Feeling Good' But Not Up to Par of Year Ago

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower said today he is feeling good but not as well as he did a year ago. He added he has no doubt he would be able to carry on in the presidency for another four years beyond next January.

Eisenhower gave this report to a jammed news conference, his first since he underwent an emergency abdominal operation June 9.

Told that some of his friends and neighbors in the vicinity of his Gettysburg, Pa., farm have expressed concern as to whether he would live through another term, Eisenhower replied with a smile that he was flattered by their concern.

Country's Decision

Then he said the Republican party and the country apparently believe they still need him. He added that the decision will be up to the American people.

Eisenhower was noticeably a bit thinner than when he held his last news conference June 6. But he replied to a barrage of questions during a 30-minute session in a sure voice and seemed to be in a confident mood.

On other subjects Eisenhower had this to say:

Suez — The international crisis generated by Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal is one which must be handled with great care.

Congress — The record of the 84th Congress, which adjourned last Friday, leaves him with mixed emotions. The performance of the lawmakers pleased him in some respects, left him regretful in some, and frankly disappointed in others.

Racial — A reporter told Eisenhower that in connection with political primaries in the South there has been "violent talk of the race issue." The reporter asked whether the President feels that candidates who engage in such talk render a disservice to the country.

Replying, Eisenhower said he had not been aware of such talk, that he knew it was going on, and that he deplores it. The President called such activity a very grave error and a disservice to the country.

Olds, Assistant to Orville Hodge, Found Dead in Lake

Authorities Probe Cause Of His Death

Find Auto, Then Body of Assistant To Ousted Auditor

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—The body of H. Kendall Olds, administrative assistant to former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, was found in Lake Springfield today, the coroner's office reported.

The body, reported as fully clothed, was found near the Surf Club at the lake.

Report Car

Police earlier had received a call from the club saying there was an abandoned car on their property. The body was taken to the Staab Funeral Home here.

Authorities did not immediately report the cause of death but they were investigating whether it was due to drowning.

Olds, 46, was married and the father of a 10-year-old girl.

Associates in the auditor's office said he had taken the scandal involving Hodge "very hard" and was "personally devoted" to the ex-auditor.

Hodge and two associates have been indicted by federal and Sangamon County grand juries in a million dollar state check cashing scandal involving the auditor's office.

Several investigations into the mishandling of state funds handled by the auditor's office are under way.

Olds' body was discovered by a member of the Sangamon Surf Club about 9:30 a. m. Nearby was a blue state sedan, the license of which was registered in Hodge's name. A vial of pills was found in the front seat and numerous cigarette butts were strewn near the car.

Reported Missing

Olds' wife, Thelma, had telephoned the auditor's office earlier to report that her husband failed to return home leaving at 8 p. m. Tuesday night without his wallet.

Olds, a former newspaper man, handled public relations and some administrative work under Hodge. He was retained on the payroll after Lloyd Morey was named auditor to succeed Hodge. Morey

British Ready to Use Force

LONDON (P)—An authoritative British source said today Britain is ready to use force if necessary, including the reoccupation of the Suez Canal Zone, to keep the canal open to world shipping.

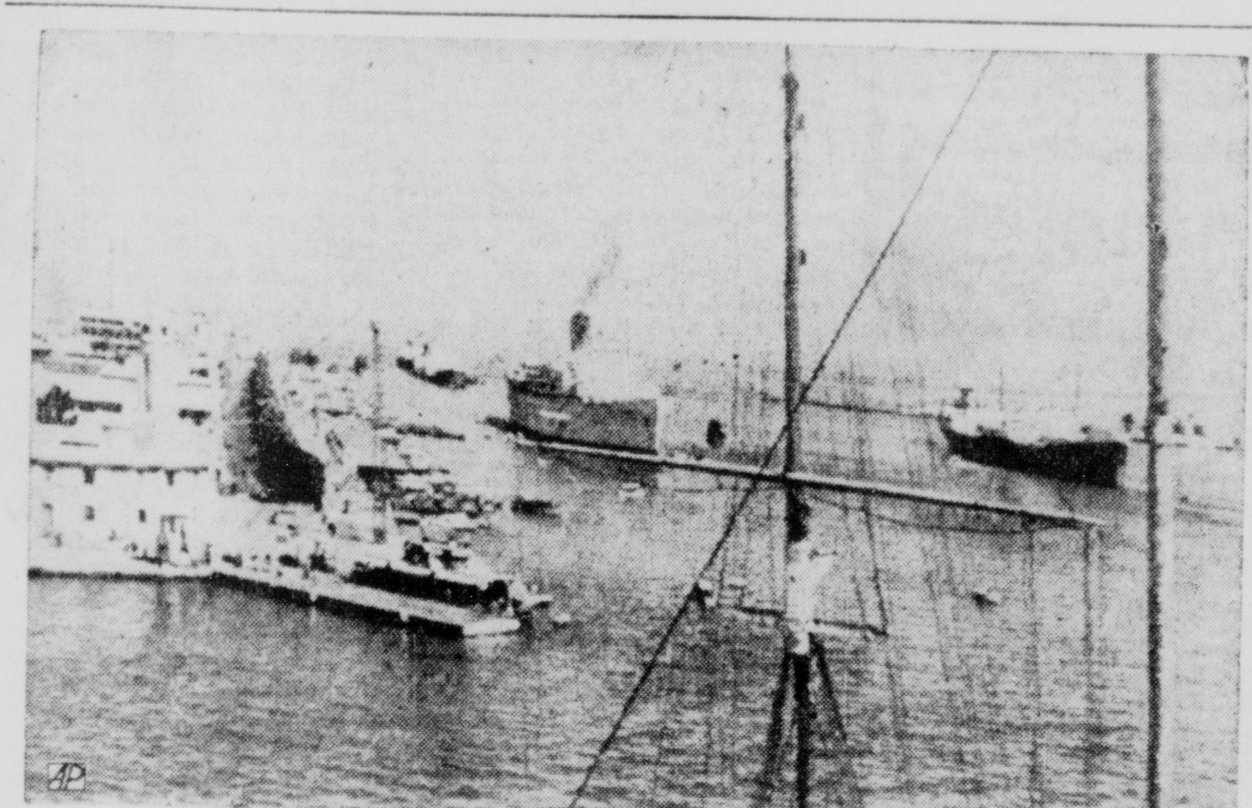

The informant is an official of Prime Minister Eden's government, but he declined to be identified by name or position.

He said Britain has not asked—and does not intend asking the United States to join in any military measures which this country may take as a result of Egypt's nationalization of the canal.

Britain has, however, called upon the United States to give political support in the event military action is taken, he said. France and some British Commonwealth countries were described as backing this attitude.

There was no official confirmation from either the British Foreign Office or the U. S. Embassy. The information was given out as U. S. Secretary of State Dulles talked with Eden, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau at a hurriedly arranged "work luncheon."

Dulles, who only Sunday said he had no plans to come here, arrived from Washington by plane this morning. He is thought to have been sent by President Eisenhower to urge moderation upon the French and British.

TRAFFIC HEAVY IN SEIZED CANAL—Ships of all nations pass through Port Said harbor at Mediterranean entrance to Suez Canal as traffic continued uninterrupted following Egyptian seizure of vital waterway. Council Approves Plan To Widen Galena Avenue

City-State Project to Cost Estimated $120,000

The Dixon City Council Tuesday night approved a resolution for a joint city-state project to widen 2,680 feet of Galena Avenue from Seventh Street to Hemlock Avenue.

The total job will cost an estimated $120,000 of which Dixon will pay about $55,000 out of motor fuel tax funds.

In conjunction with the project, the Council passed an ordinance prohibiting the connection of sanitary and industrial waste sewers with storm sewers in the area, and an ordinance stipulating parallel parking only, and approved a resolution to employ the C. K. Willett consulting engineer firm to prepare plans and specifications for the project.

Levy on File

The annual tax levy ordinance, providing for a levy of $327,999 on real and personal property, was placed on file for a week. Finance Commissioner C. Lyle Ballard explained that the amount is practically the same as the recently approved budget, less sales tax expenditures. The levy covers the fiscal year from April 1, 1956, to April 16, 1957.

A bid of $1,680 from the Jay Bock Co., Davenport, Ia., was accepted for tuckpointing the north wall of the city hall, and the city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for tuckpointing and sandblasting the other three walls.

The Council directed Lysle Pietsch of the Pietsch Landscape and Tree Service, 1006 N. Galena Ave., to remove an elm tree at the corner of Boyd Street and North Jefferson Avenue. Pietsch told the Council the tree is "dangerous," although it was not specified whether the tree is infected with Dutch Elm disease.

Annex Lots

The Council passed an ordinance annexing three lots belonging to David Barton bordering the north city limits between Peoria and Galena avenues.

Acting on recommendations of the city planning commission, the Council passed an ordinance to permit R. Kreider Woods and Dorothy Woods to operate a nursing home at Galena Avenue and Morgan Street; another ordinance to amend the zoning ordinance to permit Dr. Leslie Hinkle to establish an optometric clinic in the 300 block of Peoria Avenue, and accepted a bid of $320 from the Christian Church for sale to the church of a strip of land 70 by 10 feet adjoining the church at Second Street and Hennepin Avenue.

The board of local improvements, meeting after the Council adjourned, placed on file a petition for sanitary sewer service on a 790-foot frontage between Ninth and Hunt streets on Grant Avenue in the west end of Dixon.

Breakins Reported

Two breakins and an attempted breakin in downtown Dixon were reported this morning to police.

Robert J. Nagle, manager of the Community Loan office, 105½ First St., reported his office had been entered sometime after 5 p. m. yesterday. Officer Glenn Camery said the door lock had been slipped with a thin object, and a metal desk drawer had been jimmied open. Nothing was missing.

An electric fan appeared to be the only object taken from the Illinois Veterans Administration office, 124 E. First St. Albert Ruggles, manager, reported the break-in when he opened the office this morning. Police were unable to discover the means by which entrance was made.

Dr. Raymond E. Worsley reported an attempted breakin at his dental office, 105 E. Second St. Police Chief Earl Kelchner said there were scratch marks on the door but no entrance was made.

Bales to Seek Warrants In Automobile Fatalities

State's Attorney James E. Bales today said he will order warrants charging reckless homicide issued in connection with two automobile accidents in Lee County Saturday and Monday in which four persons died.

Charges probably will be filed against Roger Foster, 17, son of Mrs. Paul Freed, 916 Douglas St., and William Hull, 21, Amboy. Foster was driving a car which crashed west of Dixon Monday killing a passenger, Vernon Earl Hackbarth, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hackbarth, 1716 Factory St.

Hull is in KSB hospital with injuries suffered when a car he was driving collided with another vehicle early Saturday 3 miles east of Rt. 52 on Rt. 30, killing Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fosdale, Elmwood Park, and their 17-year-old son. A 9-year-old son was injured.

The four fatalities brought the total for Lee County so far in 1956 to nine.

Bales deplored the unnecessary loss of life in automobile accidents and asked that law enforcement agents crack down on motor vehicle violations. He issued the following statement:

"It seems incredible that people can have such a total disregard and disrespect for their fellow man when driving a car. Last week a 9-year-old boy survived an automobile collision, but in one moment lost his mother, father and brother. A small boy left alone in the world because of careless driving.

"This week a 14-year-old boy, our people."

Convention Not Closed, He Contends

Reporters Bear Down on Fuss Over Stassen

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Eisenhower said today Vice President Nixon is perfectly acceptable to him but he is not going to foreclose Republican convention action on some other possible vice presidential candidate.

Eisenhower declined at a news conference to state any preference for a vice presidential nominee.

Eisenhower said he himself has not been renominated and he is not going beyond what he already has said about Nixon as a member of the administration team.

In previous exchanges on the subject Eisenhower has said he would be "delighted" to have Nixon on any ticket with him. He has praised Nixon's contribution to the administration.

Today Eisenhower said there can be no doubt about his satisfaction with Nixon as a running mate.

Dodges on Herter

He declined specifically to say whether Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts would be as acceptable for second place on the ticket.

Harold E. Stassen has proposed that Herter be substituted for Nixon.

Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament aide, contends that an Eisenhower-Herter ticket would be 6 per cent stronger in November than an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

A reporter asked Eisenhower whether his renewed endorsement of Nixon and his refusal to name any other candidate didn't promote the conclusion that he was for Nixon. Eisenhower replied the reporters had the right to place any interpretation they wanted on his remarks.

Vice President Nixon is perfectly acceptable to him as he was in 1952, Eisenhower said.

He added he saw no reason to draw the conclusion that he preferred Nixon, but he said reporters could do so if they choose.

Granted Leave

Much of the questioning at Eisenhower's news conference revolved around Stassen's effort to push Nixon off the ticket and replace him with Herter.

Eisenhower has granted Stassen a 30-day leave of absence from his White House job, beginning tomorrow, to pursue his "political activities."

Asked if he would prepare a list of possible vice presidential candidates as he did in 1952, Eisenhower said he hadn't made any list yet. If he did, he added, he would not give it to any but the most confidential friends. He said he wasn't going to be drawn into any naming of candidates who would be acceptable.

He said very little was said between him and Stassen when Stassen told him in advance of Stassen's July 23 announcement that he was backing Herter.

Stassen didn't come to him for advice but only to tell him what Stassen expected to do, Eisenhower said.

Farm Adviser Reports on Corn Borer Destruction

University Expect Checks Area Fields, Lists Yields

By GEORGE D. PERISHO
OREGON (Special)—Moderate to severe infestation is predicted for second brood corn borer in this area, and with the large number of corn borers we had in the first brood, you will certainly do well to check your fields soon for egg masses.

Weather conditions can affect the insect population. Because of this, each individual should check his own field to determine possible damage. What was the effect of treating on first brood corn borer this year? H. B. Petty, from the entomology department at the University of Illinois, was in Ogle County last Thursday to check several fields that had been treated for corn borer and strips that were left untreated in these fields. By leaving untreated strips in the fields, we did not find it too difficult to find a variation in our count.

Geo. D. Perisho, Farm Adviser, is shown in a portrait. He is a man with dark hair, wearing a suit and tie, looking directly at the camera.

Comparisons Made

At the LaVerne Adams farm west of Ogle, one field showed 598 corn borers per 100 stalks in the untreated plot. A treated plot within 4 to 5 rows showed 90 per cent control and an average of 70 borers in 100 stalks. Another field on the Adams farm showed a count of 250 borers per 100 stalk on a check plot, while the treated corn had only 35 borers per 100 stalk or an 86 per cent control.

According to Petty, one borer per stalk at this time of year can cut the yield three bushels per acre. With an average of six borers per stalk in the field mentioned above, LaVerne can expect 15 to 18 bushels decrease in yield if this field had not been treated. Three bushels of corn will easily pay for a treatment.

By the way, on stopping in at the Home Economics Achievement Show, I enjoyed looking over the many displays of cookies, cakes, dresses, posters and flower arrangements. My only regret was that I could not assist the judge in making the placements on the cakes and cookies. The many exhibits at the 4-H Home Economics Achievement show clearly illustrate the motto of our 4-Hers, "To Make the Best Better."

There has been a big improvement in quality of these exhibits over previous shows and much of this credit will go to the leadership of Harriett Wachlin and her assistant, Pearl Barnes. The larger crowd this year than previous years was also very encouraging. However, I wish there were more of the proud fathers and contributors to 4-H activities to help swell the crowd and to let the girls know they are not only supporting them financially but also by their thoughts and efforts.

Just finished harvesting the oat variety plots at Vernon Cassens. Two of the varieties were very late in maturing and were not combined until Friday of last week.

Yields Listed

According to our yield data, the Logan variety yielded 62.6 bushels per acre with a test weight of 33 pounds; Garry—61.7 bushels, 34 pounds test weight; Clinton—54.5 bushels with a 37 pound test weight; Clinton 11—54 bushels per acre and 38 pounds test weight; Nemaha—52 bushels, 37 pounds test weight; Clarion—51.4 bushels, 36 pounds test weight; Sauk—49 bushels, 34 pounds test weight; Bee-Dee—48.5 bushels, 37 pounds test weight; Fayette—45.3 bushels, 36 pounds test weight; Waubay—38.4 bushels, 36 pounds test weight; Newton—33 bushels, 36 pounds test weight.

One of the most striking things noticed on these plots was the yield of the Newton variety. This is a cross between Clinton 11 and Nemaha and we were hoping it to be one of our outstanding varieties. Throughout the year we noticed a ragged, late appearance of this variety which is apparently caused from a poorer quality foundation seed. The seed came from a foundation field which in 1955 was harvested late because of wet weather.

We do not want to criticize any one variety too severely on the basis of one year's check plots; however, after two or more years of growing this variety we will certainly be able to express a definite opinion on its value. Nearly all varieties showed some traces of rust this year, however, the oat plots at the Vernon Cassens farm did not show any lodging and the Garry oat was by far the tallest and has a good stiff straw but the late maturity date will hold it down in popularity.

The Soil Conservation Field Day and Ogle County Ploving Contest will be held at the Royce Daws farm near Forreston on Tuesday, Aug. 21. If you know of anyone interested in ploving in this contest, please contact John Conroy at the Soil Conservation office or myself as soon as possible so that your application can be on file and sufficient number of lands will be marked out.

The morning program will begin at 10 a.m. with a 4-H and FFA land judging contest. Lunch will be available on the grounds through the cooperation of 4-H Federation of Ogle County. At 1 p.m. 4-H members and adults will start on their respective lands in the ploving contest. John Conroy plans to discuss the need for soil conservation with details on structure of terraces, contours and grass waterways.

The Farm Bureau-Farm Management Service which is being made available to farm operators in Ogle County is profitable to tenant farmers as well as owner farmers. Nearly one-half of the 4,700 farmers receiving this service in the State of Illinois are tenants. Each tenant farmer as well as each owner farmer enrolled in this service learns how well he is making his farm pay compared with other farms. He learns where the strong parts of his business are located and on these strong points he can build a better business. Each one learns where the farm leaks are and by stopping

'Grass Roots' Group to Meet In September

CHICAGO (AP)—A group of states' rights advocates will convene in Chicago in early September to protest the "centralized, all-powerful, super-concentration of power in Washington."

The Grass Roots Assn., a two-year-old conservative Republican group, will sponsor the meeting Sept. 5-7. The group is headed by J. S. Matherly, Peoria, Ill., and W. C. Bohon, Chicago.

Edward Albaugh of Chicago, business manager of the association, said Tuesday he expects 4,000 to 5,000 "politically homeless" people to attend the convention. He said these people have nowhere else to turn because both major parties favor increased concentration of power in the Federal government.

Although some common platform of principles may emerge from the meeting, Albaugh said, any action in support of a presidential candidate would be unlikely.

The Independent Elector Plan Assn., recently organized in Illinois by For America, a national conservative organization, will also participate in the convention. The Independent Elector Plan Assn. recently announced a drive to place independent electors on the state ballot in November.

Other individuals and groups planning the convention are E. A. Allen, president of the Assn. of First Generation Americans, Chicago; Sherwood C. Ide, president, Independence Foundation, Portland, Ind.; and George J. Thomas, secretary, the Congress of Freedom, Omaha.

Earl Long's Opponents Score Wins

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two Louisiana congressmen threw the state's politics into a spin today after humiliating Gov. Earl Long with smashing victories in their bids for renomination in the Democratic primary election.

Rep. T. A. Thompson defeated three Long-backed candidates in the 7th Congressional Dist. race and Rep. Otto Passman won over two Long-supported candidates in the 5th.

Victory in Tuesday's balloting amounted to election in this state. Long was not available for comment on the outcome.

Four other representatives won renomination in two-way races. Two representatives and Sen. Russell Long were unopposed.

Interest was centered on the Thompson and Passman races, in which Long took a personal hand. There was little state interest in the other races.

Long's political prestige also took a beating in New Orleans and in the 8th Dist. Long's home district.

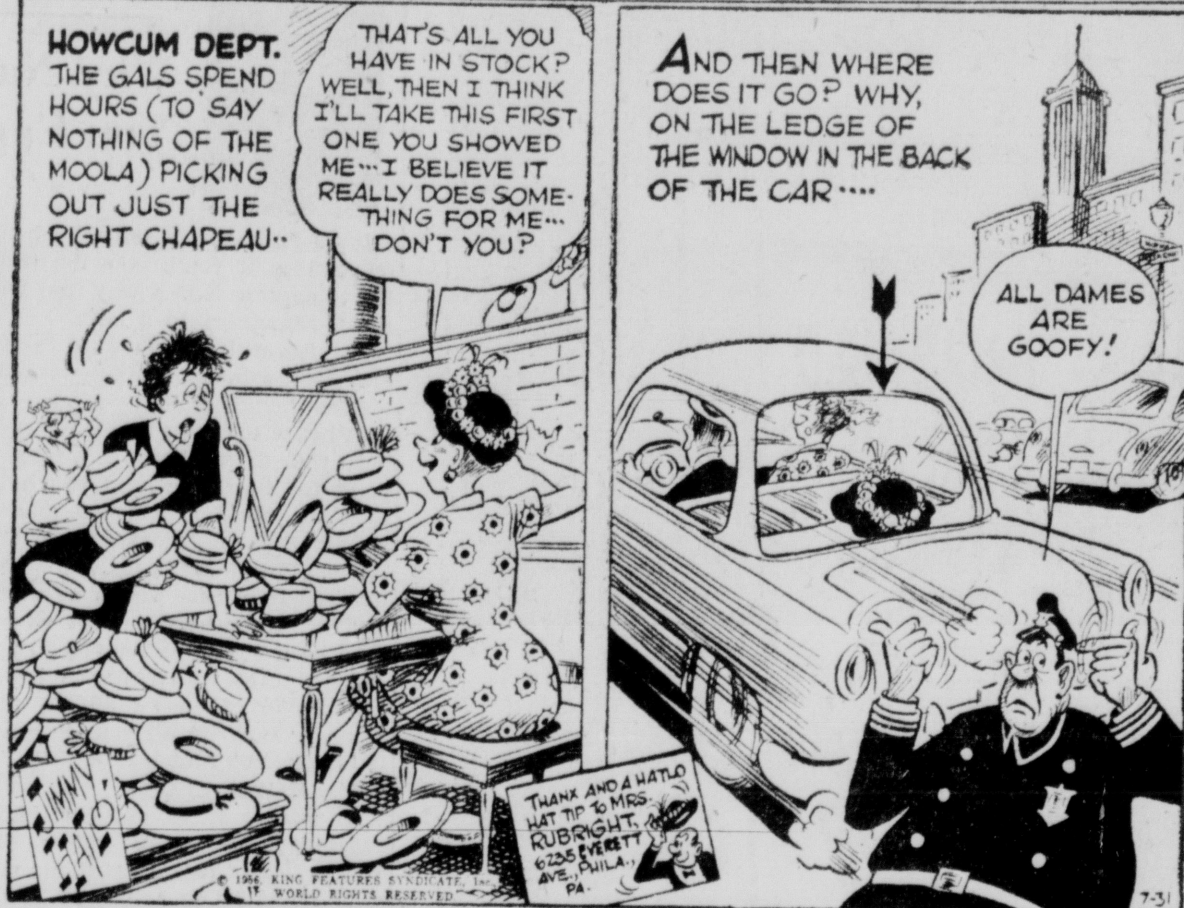

Four Long-backed candidates for judgeships were roundly defeated in New Orleans and Long's sister Mrs. Clara Long Knott of Many trailed Alexandria Atty. Harold McSwain in the 8th Dist. Board of Education race.

Thompson's explanation was that the results "showed the people's resentment."

Push to Greater Costs Grows on Many Fronts

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A push toward a higher cost of living goes on today on many fronts.

At home it's spurred by the trend toward built-in wage hikes to come along year by year for some time in the future.

Abroad it's the threat of trouble at the Suez Canal and along the Burma-China border that raises prices of commodities that might be affected by Middle East and Far East disturbances.

Price Rises Announced
Price rises in the last two or three days have been announced on such things as tires, washer and dryers, typewriters and advertising rates.

Increases at the commodity level — in the materials out of which future consumer goods will be made — are set for rubber and tin because of fear of disruption of traffic through the Suez Canal.

Price rises for steel and probably for aluminum are awaited as an aftermath to new labor wage pacts.

And on the Paris market the price of gold jumped to a two-year high, apparently out of general uneasiness over the world situation.

The price rises on consumer goods being announced now are the result of past increases in the costs of materials and labor. Those being announced or awaited on metals and other commodities reflect fears over future supplies.

Long's political prestige also took a beating in New Orleans and in the 8th Dist. Long's home district.

Four Long-backed candidates for judgeships were roundly defeated in New Orleans and Long's sister Mrs. Clara Long Knott of Many trailed Alexandria Atty. Harold McSwain in the 8th Dist. Board of Education race.

Thompson's explanation was that the results "showed the people's resentment."

or expectations of higher production costs.

Slow Inflation
It is a slow form of inflation — one that Americans have become used to since the war and one that apparently they rather like. They may grumble about the higher cost of living but they like the added income that accompanies or precedes it. Most of them apparently fear and dislike alternative — deflation.

What rising operating costs are doing to corporate profit margins shows up in the mid year earnings statements of many companies. They report sales higher than a year ago, but net profit after taxes either no higher or a bit lower.

Some corporations are reporting both higher sales and greater profits, but often these are the ones who have been able to pass along their greater operating costs in higher prices. Where competition blocks this, profits margins have narrowed notably.

Centers on Steel
Most talk just now about future price inflation centers in the coming hike in the price of basic steel. This will follow the wage hike this year, which in turn is to be followed by a similar wage increase next year and a third one in the year after that.

As this trend toward longer wage contracts, with steady pay increases each year, spreads through industry in general, management can figure on constantly rising labor costs as part of their pricing problem.

The ones to suffer most from the slow trend toward high costs of living will be, as usual, those on fixed incomes — pensioners, annuitants, life insurance payments.

Unconvincing

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—To prove his love for a Colorado College coed, Michael F. Cusack of Fort Worth, Tex., ran his fist through the glass door of his college dormitory. Police said the unidentified coed, who witnessed the incident, wasn't convinced. Neither was the college's dean of men. He handed Cusack a bill for the damage. And the young student was taken to a local hospital suffering severe hand and wrist cuts.

Paschen Pursues His Campaign on Hollingsworth

CHICAGO (AP)—Herbert C. Paschen, Democratic candidate for governor, continued his drive for the ouster of Morton H. Hollingsworth, state director of finance.

Paschen Tuesday asked Gov. Stratton to fire Hollingsworth. The Democrat, now Cook County treasurer, said that Hollingsworth is responsible for advising Stratton on state financial affairs.

"If Hollingsworth knew of State Auditor Orville Hodge's wild spending of state funds, and did nothing, he betrayed the people. If he did not have the figures, the operations of the finance department have broken down, and Hollingsworth has failed the people," Paschen said.

Hodge is under state and federal indictment for a million-dollar state check cashing scandal in his office.

Hollingsworth subordinated his duties as finance director to those of chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, Paschen said.

"He had to discover the great financial scandal in the history of Illinois by reading the newspapers."

"For the welfare of the state, the next thing he should read is an announcement that Stratton has fired him," Paschen said.

Need Miracle to Avoid New Record Traffic Toll

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council has said it will take "almost a miracle" to head off a record high national traffic toll in 1956.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, made the prediction on the basis of statistics showing that 18,120 persons have been killed in traffic accidents in the first six months of this year.

Police Catch Triple Slayer

CHICAGO (AP)—Lawrence Neumann, 28, wanted in the shotgun slaying of three persons, was captured today in an alley on Chicago's near West Side.

Neumann was taken without a struggle, about 3 a.m., police said. Two hundred police surrounded a three-mile-square area searching for the fugitive gunman after two detectives earlier reported exchanging shots with a man they believed was Neumann.

The bespectacled ex-convict eluded police squads for about two hours before a woman resident of the area discovered him crouching on her back porch.

Mrs. Pat Ward, 40, told police she opened the door to let her dog out and saw Neumann. She said he rushed at her, motioning for her to remain quiet. However, she screamed "Who are you, who are you?" and then collapsed, police said.

Neumann attempted to flee but was captured by police who heard Mrs. Ward's cries.

Police said Neumann was wanted for the slaying June 8 of Max Epstein, 50, part owner of a North Side tavern; Mrs. Lois Gates, 27, a dice girl, and John Keller, 49, a news vendor.

Mrs. Gates and Epstein were shot in Epstein's tavern and Keller was shot down when he inadvertently blocked the killer's escape route.

Police said Neumann had been arrested in the tavern May 9 for creating a disturbance and apparently returned to settle a grudge.

Eligible Unless...

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—Attorneys handling the estate of Mrs. Kate E. Landes sent out $500 questionnaires to 19 heirs.

Smoke? Drink? Belong to a church? Go to Church or Sunday school every Sunday?

Mrs. Landes left $500 apiece to 17 nieces and nephews and two friends if they have the right answers ("no" to the first two questions and "yes" to the others).

Three have answered satisfactorily and certified they are eligible for the $500.

Twelve others replied variously, some of them declining to claim the money.

Two haven't been heard from at all.

And a lawyer for the other two, legally dotting every "I" and crossing every "T," responded in their behalf.

"Eligible unless that portion of Article IV of the will which provides 'nor drink' should be interpreted to include the consumption of water and other nonalcoholic beverage."

Lassoing the Litterbug

Warning to people who think highways are their own private wastebaskets:

Now it's not so easy to toss refuse out of your car window and get away with it.

Recently 13 states have stiffened their penalties for this offense.

The problem has become serious, according to a survey by the family economics bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co.

Heedless folks who drop trash are costing all of us, including themselves, plenty of dough. The American public has to pay out $15 to $20 a mile per year for someone to clean up the mess left behind motorists.

That's why we're delighted that some states are courageous enough to crack down on slovenly drivers.

For example, Georgia imposes a maximum fine of $1,000 or a year's imprisonment on litterbugs.

North Carolina arrested 81 trash strewners and convicted 80 of them in the first 12 months of its clean highways program.

Eight of those states which have sharpened their laws report that sloppy motorists have become considerably neater. That's pretty good proof that a get-tough policy works.

Bewildered Britons

A couple of British newspapers declare that the Republican party is "hounding" President Eisenhower into running for a second term. This statement involves two unproved arguments.

One is that Mr. Eisenhower's health is such that he ought not to run and doesn't want to. This has not been demonstrated.

The second is that the President is so weak-willed he can't resist party pressure. Britishers who knew him as allied commander in World War II should know better.

But American politics, and political figures, seem often to baffle many of our British cousins.

Kremlin Rope Trick

Often we in America are told by needy peoples in other lands, especially in Asia, that they don't want help from us if there are strings attached. They mean they don't want to have to commit themselves to our side as the price of assistance.

Liking the independent path, we can understand this. But we wonder sometimes whether certain of our Asian friends realize what the price may be of taking help from the Soviet Union.

Such aid is offered without visible strings, of course. But as Vice President Nixon recently declared in Pakistan, there may actually be a rope attached—a rope that could tighten around the neck of an unsuspecting people.

The Kremlin is not interested in world betterment but in world conquest. Every economic inroad into a foreign land, however innocent on the surface, has its place in the broad pattern of that objective. The "beneficiaries" of Soviet aid will gain little if they avoid our strings only to walk into a Russian noose.

Transference of Guilt

You can almost always measure the degree of Communist embarrassment over internal disorders by the intensity with which Red authorities seek to spread the blame to outsiders.

Evidently unhappiness was acute over the Poznan riots, now estimated to have taken 1,000 Polish workers' lives instead of the 600 calculated earlier. For the Communists are screaming that America financed the uprising as part of a broad cold war plan to generate subversive activities within the whole Soviet orbit.

As our State Department quickly declared, this is pure bunkum. Our information agencies shouldn't rest until they have beamed the true story around the world again and again. For the truth of this episode constitutes a terrific blow at the myth of Communist service to the workers.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE
JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Hollywood and Grapevine: Rita Hayworth is taking time out in the West Indies to correct the impression that she's wallowing in million-dollar settlements. Says the ex-princess on the "Fire Down Below" set about living high on the hog:

"I must work. It makes me sick when I hear people talking about million-dollar settlements made on me. The truth is that it hasn't been all that easy for me to get by lately."

An added thought from the veteran movie Venus:

"What I'd really like to be is a painter and not have to be sold as sex or always remember to keep my stomach tucked in. But I guess it will never be."

Asking price of the Dinah Shore-George Montgomery mansion in Beverly Hills is a breather. Fasten your seat belts for a figure of $250,000. It's the fancy shack you saw on "Person to Person" not so long ago. . . . Marlene Dietrich's unauthorized biography, "Blonde Venus," will show up in U.S. bookstores this fall. She isn't happy about the book.

IT LOOKS LIKE MGM will get the filmography of the Andrews Sisters with Helen Deutsch already penciled in to write the screenplay. Patty, Maxine and LaVerne are together again at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas after a two-year separation. Their next chore will be recording 100 sides of Capitol records.

Tony Curtis junked his "Trapeze" crewcut for his latest film but goes back to the short hair for "The Sweet Smell of Success" with Burt Lancaster. No more long-hair fan photos for him, though.

A new movie fan magazine called "Hear" has a phonograph record imprinted into the front cover so readers can listen to star interviews. Hollywood's hoping those scandal magazines don't copy the idea with recorded conversations obtained with hidden tape recorders.

NOT IN THE SCRIPT: Dan Duryea about a film couple: "They broke up because of incompatibility. He had no income and she was pitable."

Helen Hayes, returning to the big screens in "Anastasia," gave her okay for a biography of her late husband, playwright Charles MacArthur. The life story will be penned by Charles Samuels. . . . Stewart Granger, who took his young sprouts to London to see their mother, actress Elspeth March, brings them back to the U.S. for more schooling and life on a New Mexico ranch. . . . Eva Gabor, a-touring in "Blithe Spirit," is putting over umors that all isn't custard-smooth between her and the groom, Dr. John William. Not true at all, according to Zsa Zsa's sister.

Movie trade paper thought about the loss of film attendance: "The concession stand too often is the only thing about the theater that reflects the active attention of the management."

EUROPEAN EYEBROWS soared when Ingrid Bergman and hubby Roberto Rossellini checked into the same Paris hotel where Anna Magnani was living. At one time Anna almost became Mrs. Rossellini. . . . The Ritz Brothers were held over for another two weeks, making it a month's engagement at a Chicago nite spot. . . . Zsa Zsa Gabor, asked by a London scribe about ex-husband George Sanders, replied: "I may marry him again. Only he's terrified about the idea."

THE WITNET: Robin Raymond, lunching with a movie director, heard him say that Hal Wallis had hired Cy Howard, who created "My Friend Irma," to write an original screenplay for Elvis Presley. "My Friend Squirm" no doubt," dead-panned Robin.

Why Nag Husband, When You Can Sell Him on Idea?

It's a lot easier to sell a husband on an idea if you'll take the trouble to express it in a way that will mean something to a man.

For instance, if you want to sell him on the idea of having a dishwasher installed in the kitchen of that house that you are making do until your dream house is a reality, don't tell him how hard you have to work, cooking, washing dishes, scrubbing floors, making beds, etc.

Nope, instead of that tale of woe, just tell him, "for me to be washing dishes by hand is just as absurd as it would be for you to add office figures with paper and pencil instead of on an adding machine or to write all your business letters in pen and ink."

GIVE HIM A CHOICE

If you want to get the house painted, better than telling him you're sick of looking at it the way it is would be to point out that it is just as poor business to let a home get shabby as it is to let a business firm get a seedy look.

Don't nag him to get him to do odd jobs around the house. Find out what it would cost to hire a carpenter to do the job and give him a choice. Does he want to do it or shall you have it done?

If you want to make a husband see things your way, try wording your ideas in language that means something to him.

Such phrases as "I'm sick of looking at the living room," "I'm tired of sitting home night after night," "I haven't got a thing to wear," a man just dismisses as nagging.

Why nag a husband—when you could just as well sell him on an idea?

Literary Guide

THE STRAIGHT AND NARROW PATH. By Honor Tracy. Random House.

Dr. Andrew Butler, a scientist seeking a rest from his studies of primitive behavior in the Congo, comes to an Irish village, Paddytown, in search of a quiet retreat.

Living at Mrs. Mangan's hotel as this novel opens, he is being inveigled into helping an English journalist too drunk to file a feature story. You do it, be kind, Mrs. Mangan urges Butler. But what about? Irish customs, a safe general topic. Whereupon Patsy, at the bar with him, invites him to view a quaint one. Together Patsy and Butler climb a tree and look into the yard of a convent where the nuns are having their annual ceremony of jumping over bonfires.

Wherever the custom came from to this isolated village Butler can't guess, but it is an ancient fertility rite, and he says so in his story to the paper. This sets the town, and Dublin, and eventually the entire Irish press by the ears. The canon is sure he has been libeled, and Patsy, tricky customer, proves to be the lawyer who recommends that he sue the paper and the scientist and collect money his charities badly need.

All this leads to a comical to-do which I must assume Catholics in Ireland enjoyed and which, consequently, American-Irish Catholics may be expected to enjoy, too. To be sure, Europeans are broader-minded in religious matters, but Miss Tracy herself is a Catholic, wrote this lively work in Italy and is now in Spain at work on another. This comes from the publisher of "Don't Go Near the Water" and "No Time for Sergeants," and I find this immeasurably wittier and more original than those two.

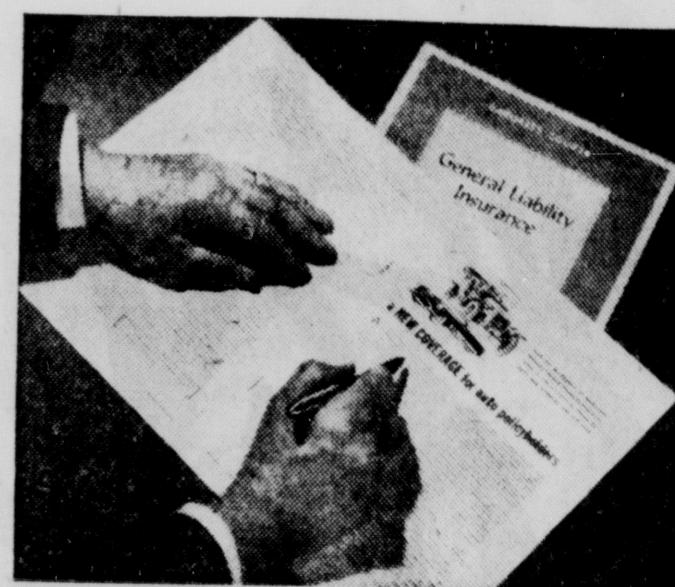

W. G. Rogers

Be a Beauty Without Running Water

Products Aid a Camper's Looks After Summer Days

Summertime may mean easy living, but rugged camping out is the choice many girls make for their vacation. They bathe in the lake and sleep in the open and love it. Keeping clean and pretty is a trick managed with careful selection of products for use while camping. Lack of warm running water (left) means that facial cleansing is done with a lotion. A lake shampoo (center) calls for a gentle, easy-lathering shampoo. Pin curl permanent (right) eliminates futile nightly pin-ups.

Post-camping disaster: a young lady comes home from a summer of being a camp counselor or from two weeks of camping out, with a splendid burnished tan. She takes her first shower with hot running water in two months, or two weeks, and emerges pale and peeled. The tan was over a layer of dirt.

An exaggeration, of course, but it makes the point.

Being pretty for fall, after living for a summer under primitive conditions, is a matter of keeping pretty and clean throughout the summer. And this is dependent upon the products one takes along for vacation.

Anyone who's going to be without running water or without hot water ought to anticipate how she's going to keep her face clean during this time. Gals who'll swim daily in salt water have a double problem. A bottle or two of a semi-liquid cleanser is a good bet. It will probably clean better than hard, cold water. Also, since it has a cold-cream-like texture, it adds important moisture to a skin that dries easily with sun and swimming.

A shampoo in a lake or river is fun, as anyone who has watched lather float off in a great circle will testify. But such water is often sufficiently hard to be squirted through an oak plank. The shampoo that goes along camping ought to be gentle, easy lathering and easy to rinse out. Frequent shampooing, by the way, becomes very vital under conditions where perspiration and salt or organic lake matter can accumulate in the scalp.

Staying curly is a severe problem. Nightly pin-ups last until the before-breakfast dip, which is hardly long enough to be worth the effort. Pretty soon a coiffure can look like a bunch of kelp.

A valuable aid here is a pin-curl permanent. If one is given just before departure, it can be renewed at the half-way point, if a complete kit is taken along. Pin-curl permanents aren't conspicuous while set, a value where priv-

Liesel Schader, Walter Landgraf To Wed August 18

The wedding of Miss Liesel Schader and Walter Landgraf, Rockford, will take place at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 18, in St. Patrick's Church, Dixon.

Miss Schader, formerly of Germany, makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Willard, Franklin Grove. She is on the nursing staff of St. Anthony's Hospital, Rockford.

Also formerly of Germany, Walter is now employed in Rockford.

Nurses to Meet

All registered nurses of Lee and Whiteside counties are invited and urged to attend an important meeting Thursday evening, Aug. 9, 7:30 p.m. CDT in Loveland Community House, Dixon. Purpose of this meeting is to adopt by-laws and elect officers for the newly created 13th district of the Illinois State Nurses Association.

Hints for Today

It's easy to make turnovers filled with meat or fish, fruit or jam. Use a standard pastry-for-pie recipe based on 2 1/4 cups of sifted flour; cut out four-inch squares, put a dab of filling near the center then fold into a triangle, seal and bake.

Tuck slivers of garlic among the leaves at the heart of an artichoke, then cook in salted boiling water as usual.

acry is minimal. One pin-curl permanent has big plastic pins that do no damage to fingernails and eliminate the possibility of rust from metal pins.

With a little care, no returning camper should have to worry about washing her tan down the drain or having to commit herself to three days at a beauty salon.

Stockings Or Not?

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Stockings or not in the summer?

This is a question many women past 40 ask, as soon as the weather turns warm.

It can't be settled categorically. Some mature women have very youthful skin. They tan with ease and the skin on their legs has remained firm. Certainly these women have no more need to wear stockings on casual occasions, if they wish to go without, than their daughters do.

Women who have conspicuous veins in their legs and women who wear elastic stockings for medical reasons know the answer before they ask. They hope only that someone will give them an excuse to do what they know they ought not to do.

Women whose skin remains paid throughout the summer and women who are severely under or overweight ought to decide about wearing stockings on the basis of whether the comfort is worth the price they will pay in attractiveness.

Some women who wear longer dresses and who have no circulation trouble may find that knee-length stockings that stay up by themselves give the benefits of comfort and looks. But, if one's skirt hops up above the stocking line when one sits down, one ought not to wear them. Pregnant women should, in no case, wear stockings with elastic at the knees.

Women who don't feel the need of stockings should wear nylon foot-covers to protect the insides

Former Amboy Girl Bride in July Ceremony

AMBOY — A wedding having taken place in Pullman, Wash., that has much interest in this vicinity is that of Miss Jo Anne Hinrichs and Robert Hungate. The mid-July bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hinrichs, Pullman, formerly of Amboy. Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hungate, Pullman, are the bridegroom's parents.

Arrangements of yellow and white gladioli, also candelabra, were used in decorating the Pullman Congregational Church for the evening wedding. Rev. Karl Ufer officiated at the double ring service. George Scott was nuptial organist and Charles Davis, soloist. Both are music professors at the State College, Washington.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white tulle and lace. The skirt of pleated tulle cascaded into a train and had an overskirt of lace. The fitted lace bodice was designed with a Sabrina neckline and tiny sleeves.

A headpiece of satin and seed pearls held the bride's fingertip veil of nylon tulle. Her flowers were talisman roses and stephanotis.

Attend Bride

Miss Barbara Work, Homewood, Ill., was maid of honor and Carol Hill, Walla Walla, Wash., also Pat Purdon, Seattle, bridesmaids. All are sorority sisters of the bride.

The bride's attendants wore waitz length frocks of aqua embroidered taffeta styled with scoop necklines. Their pumps matched their gowns as did their beaded bandeaus. Miss Work carried a modified crescent of yellow carnations and the bridesmaids had yellow gladioli.

Dan Hungate, Pullman, served his brother as best man while Gene Secaree, Tacoma; Kay Norman, Spokane, and Jerry Slater, Pullman, fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, also Donald Hinrichs, Pullman, cousin of the bride, ushered.

Mary Jo Hinrichs, Larson Air Force Base, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Her regular length dress was of white and aqua nylon. She carried a basket of talisman rose petals.

The bride's mother wore cocoa brown lace with pale blue accessories. Her corsage was of talisman roses. White accessories and a corsage of white roses were worn by the bridegroom's mother with her sheath dress of French blue crepe.

Yellow and aqua, the bride's selected colors, were used in decorating the church parlors for a reception.

Gov. Stratton To Speak on Hodge Case

CHICAGO (U-P) Gov. Stratton will go on the air tonight on his ouster of State Auditor Orville E. Hodge. The governor will speak from 6:30 to 7 p.m. EST over WBBM radio and television, the local CBS affiliate. The broadcast will be tape recorded and carried later by stations in Champaign, Springfield, Quincy, Decatur, Rock Island and Peoria.

Stratton demanded Hodge's resignation after disclosure of a check cashing scandal in the former state auditor's office.

Herbert C. Paschen, Democratic candidate for governor, was also granted equal time by WBBM to respond to Stratton's report. Paschen's comment will be given next Wednesday at the same time.

William Ray, NBC news director in Chicago, again asked Stratton to discuss the Hodge issue on the station's City Desk program. The governor should be willing to face unrehearsed questioning from newsmen on this program, Ray said. Stratton did not reply immediately.

Captain Skips With Payroll

MONTEREY, Calif. (U-P) Ft. Ord authorities enlisted police and FBI aid today in a search for an Army captain who is missing with his company payroll of $11,830, all in small bills.

An all-points police bulletin says Capt. James T. Scully, 35, commanding Company K, 10th Infantry, 8th Division, drew the company payroll at 8 a.m. Tuesday in the company of a guard. He returned to his company area, dismissed his guard and disappeared.

His 1956 Chevrolet car was found beside the old river road about three miles north of Ft. Ord partially concealed in bushes.

Authorities said the captain's uniform and pistol were in the machine.

The soldiers haven't been paid yet, the Army said.

Braun Ford Expands to North Side

Braun Ford, Inc., Dixon, today announced that it is moving its used car operation to 732 N. Galeana Ave., a building formerly occupied by Kellen Motor Sales.

The firm said the move was necessary because of the increased volume of new car sales and that the new location will provide for better used car reconditioning. The new location also provides a large indoor showroom and an outdoor lot.

Joe Braun, head of the company, also announced the hiring of a new sales manager, Joe Guccione, a former Lincoln-Mercury dealer in Sterling. The sales staff now consists of Shelly Maves, Bud Wilson, Hank Williams, Frank Hoyle and Ed Killeck.

Hours at the new location will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays. A new car sales department will also be maintained at the new building with the main new-car and service department headquarters being maintained at the Ottawa Avenue building.

Bars Egypt From Funds In States

WASHINGTON (U-P) Egypt has been temporarily barred from touching its money in U. S. banks without official permission and pending "clarification" of the Suez Canal crisis.

The order, issued Tuesday by the Treasury Department, also applies to U. S. assets of the Suez Canal Co., recently nationalized by Egypt.

Acting under a World War II statute still in force, the Treasury made all financial transactions by Egypt or the canal firm subject to government licensing.

Unlike the sweeping freeze on Egyptian assets ordered in Britain Saturday, the Treasury order does not apply to private Egyptian funds.

Polio Cases Still Mount In Chicago

CHICAGO (U-P) Polio cases continued to mount today in Chicago as city health officials renewed appeals to have children inoculated immediately with the Salk vaccine.

Dr. Herman Bundesen, Board of Health president, Tuesday reported 27 new cases for the 24 hour period ending midnight Monday. It was the second highest daily toll since the upsurge began a month ago.

No deaths were reported in Tuesday's figures which raised the city total to 449 cases. There have been 11 deaths attributed to the disease since Jan. 1.

Last year at the same time, 59 cases and two deaths had been reported. In 1952, when there was a record 1,203 cases for the year, 109 cases and 79 deaths were reported for the same period.

Since the outbreak began, Bundesen said, 572,509 persons have been inoculated. He said 1,100,000 shots still must be given. Many of these will be second or booster shots, he said.

Four more nurses arrived Tuesday to help in what health officials have described as the polio emergency. The four, all from Yankton, S. D., came in response to nationwide appeals by the American Red Cross. Eight other nurses arrived previously.

get on with this tateful campaign." Harriman said in New York that Kefauver's withdrawal clears the air, and he added:

"His delegates are now free. I've asked them to join me in the cause I stand for. Many have already told me they will do so."

Harriman contended he will get more than half the delegates who had been pledged to Kefauver. Michael H. Prendergast, New York Democratic state chairman and one of Harriman's campaign managers, said the New York governor's prospects are "brighter than ever."

"The many supporters of Sen. Kefauver who backed him for the nomination will now be for Gov. Harriman," Prendergast said.

Close to Certainty
Stevenson himself made no predictions but his campaign manager, James A. Finnegan, said Kefauver's withdrawal created "a very strong chance that Stevenson will be nominated on the first ballot." Several other supporters of the former Illinois governor said such a victory was "close to a certainty."

Both Stevenson and Kefauver said in response to questions there had been no deal between them. Kefauver said he is not a candidate for the vice presidential nomination but he did not close the door to accepting it.

Stevenson said "there are a number of qualified men" acceptable to him if he wins the top spot—"and I include among those Sen. Kefauver." He added that "there have never been any negotiations by me (with Kefauver), or by anyone associated with me."

In any event, the day's developments appeared to have washed out any lingering traces of the bitterness with which Kefauver and Stevenson assailed one another in the heated Florida and California primary campaigns.

State Seeks To Condemn Highway Land

The Tennessee senator said he no longer has doubts that Stevenson is capable of leading the Democrats to victory in November against the almost certain Republican candidacy of President Eisenhower.

Kefauver said he was asking his backers "wholeheartedly" to support Stevenson. He said he foresaw a possibility Stevenson would win the nomination on the first ballot.

Finnegan said he expects the "vast majority" of Kefauver's delegates to switch to Stevenson.

Harriman, however, quoted Kefauver as having told aides of the governor by telephone "that he believed I would get at least half his delegates."

"From indications I have now received," Harriman added, "I believe it will be more."

Prior to Kefauver's withdrawal, the latest Associated Press tabulation had given him an indicated first-ballot strength of 164 1/2 votes, compared with 371 for Stevenson and 136 for Harriman. Nomination will require 686 1/2 delegate votes.

Two Dixonites Lose Licenses

Two Dixon residents were among the latest list of persons whose drivers licenses have been revoked by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter for convictions of driving while intoxicated. They are Joseph M. James, 919 King Court, and Adolph Pfister, 1104 W. Seventh St.

They were among 240 whose licenses were revoked and 29 whose licenses were suspended in Illinois.

Hodge Inquiry Is Continuing Orville Reported Ailing in Home

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U-P)—The many-faceted investigation of the million dollar scandal in former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge's office continued today with the central figure reportedly ailing and in seclusion.

John Casper, caretaker at Hodge's luxurious home on Lake Springfield, said Hodge was "not feeling up to par." Casper reported Hodge had been nervous and nauseated Tuesday, but that no physician had been called.

The caretaker denied a report that Hodge suffered a heart attack. Hodge's attorney, Arthur M. Fitzgerald, Tuesday said he was informed Hodge suffered "pains in the chest." Fitzgerald said he supposed Hodge had a heart attack.

"Seeing No One"
Hodge, once a big wig in the GOP state administration, is under federal and state indictment charging mishandling of more than a million dollars worth of funds in his office. He left instruction with Casper that he is "seeing no one."

Meanwhile, George P. Coutrakon, Sangamon County state's attorney, said he may call four reputed gambling figures before the grand jury investigating the Hodge case.

Coutrakon named the four as Frank (Buster) Wortman, Elmer (Dutch) Dowling, Thomas J. Berry and Sam Magin.

Wortman and Dowling have been subpoenaed to appear Tuesday before a federal grand jury in Danville, Ill. The grand jury is investigating Wortman's business activities. Wortman owns the Club Prevue, an East St. Louis, Ill., night club. Coutrakon recessed the grand jury until Monday.

Convention

lieves in the right of any citizen to express his preference as to political candidates. He added that applies to the President himself as well as to the vice president.

Eisenhower said Stassen found his original statement backing Heister had stirred up more of a storm than he anticipated, and came to the President to ask for leave. Eisenhower said he personally thought it was wise for Stassen to take such leave.

Asked if he expected Stassen to return to work after the four weeks' leave is up, Eisenhower said that so far as he knows now Stassen will return.

In response to another question, however, he made it clear his running mate will have to be acceptable to him. He said he still stands by his statement of May 31, 1956, that the presidential nominee should withdraw if the man nominated for second place on the ticket were a man with whom the presidential nominee could not in good conscience run.

Reports Three New Cases of Diseased Elms

Three new confirmed cases of Dutch Elm disease have cropped up in Dixon, Ashton and Oregon in recent weeks, according to Lysle Pietsch, Dixon.

One infected tree has been found on the George Campbell property in Shore Acres, Dixon, and one on the Courthouse square in Oregon, Pietsch reports.

A "false alarm" report was made on an elm tree in the vicinity of Jefferson School. Laboratory analysis showed that this tree was not infected.

With the onset of the disease in the vicinity, Pietsch says property owners should be on the lookout for early symptoms, such as yellowing and wilting of leaves on a whole branch. A piece of the branch, at least 1 1/2 inch in diameter, cut while the limb still shows life, will bear brown rings just inside the new bark.

Laboratory analysis is necessary to determine whether the tree is infected with Dutch Elm disease or not.

Call Sullivan

In other developments:
1. John E. Sullivan, former president of the Bank of Elmwood Park, was summoned Tuesday before the federal grand jury in Chicago. The bank was opened in 1953 after its predecessor, the First State Bank of Elmwood Park, was ordered closed by Hodge. Hodge became a shareholder in the new bank but recently disposed of his interest.

Sullivan is a deputy to Herbert C. Paschen, Cook County treasurer and Democratic nominee for governor. He also is treasurer of the Paschen-for-Governor campaign committee.

Sullivan became president of the bank in May, 1953, and remained in that capacity until January, 1954, when he was succeeded by John Russell, a lawyer for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

He became Paschen's assistant in December, 1954, after Paschen was elected county treasurer.

2. Senate Banking and Currency Committee investigators set up a meeting in Chicago with three officials of the Southmoor Bank. They are Clare T. Ireland, executive vice president of the bank; Vernon M. Welsh, counsel and Leon Marcus, former board chairman and a major shareholder. Ireland is a former examiner for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. The committee has voted to hold hearings to determine the influence of the FDIC in Illinois banks.

Tie Up Accounts

3. Circuit Judge Julius H. Miner issued writs of attachment tying up accounts reportedly linked to Hodge in First Granite City National Bank. He issued another writ freezing assets belonging to Hodge in the accounting firm of F. M. Mersinger and Co., Chicago and East St. Louis. This writ also ties up the assets of several of Hodge's associates. Six life insurance policies on Hodge also were attached. Earlier writs attaching other Hodge assets were filed last Friday. Judge Miner acted at the request of the state attorney general's office.

4. Albert E. Jenner, special counsel for the state Budgetary Commission investigation of Hodge, announced he had discovered $56,332 in 13 suspicious checks on the abandoned property fund. Jenner estimated alleged misappropriated funds found to date would run "well over one million dollars and probably close to 1 1/2 million." He said that would include the more than $500,000 Hodge recently has attempted to repay.

5. Lloyd C. Morey, appointed to serve out Hodge's unexpired term met with the Budgetary Commission and said he thought he could meet expenses without asking for an emergency appropriation from the Legislature.

6. Coutrakon recessed the grand jury until Monday.

Allocation Of Vaccine Is Dropped

WASHINGTON (U-P)—The government today ended federal allocation of Salk polio vaccine to the states and territories.

Secretary of Welfare Folsom announced this was done "so that more vaccine will be available to areas where the demand is greatest."

Folsom added that the move was taken upon recommendation of Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, who wound up his work as surgeon general of the Public Health Service Tuesday.

Little League All-Star Squad Named

LINEUPS HAVE BEEN announced for a Jay Cee Little League All-Star squad that will face champion Hey-Herzog in an exhibition game, Monday, August 6, at Reynolds Field. The 15-man team includes six members of the third-place Elks, five members from the runner-up Zeien Buick team and four players from the W. C. Knack squad. The All-Stars will be managed by the heads of the three teams comprising the quad.

Hey-Herzog will have to face the slants of such pitchers as Zeien's Donnie Melendrez, the Elks' Jerry Kerley and Knacks' Rich Skibinski. Other players include Zeien's Butch Saunders, Denny Bradley, Tommy Slain and Dynamite Henry; the Elks' Gary Pfahl, Johnny Sigel, Rollie Mercer, Jim Stewart and Dan Dunphy; and Knacks' Joe Covert, Bob Phalen and John Underwood.

IN SELECTING THE TEAM, Messrs. Ebaugh, Saunders, Wickert and Wahler had another consideration to make besides spacing the All-Stars to include a fair share from each team. This was age. The team consists of boys from all four ages eligible to play in the league.

The oldesters, at 12, include Melendrez, Skibinski, Kerley, Pfahl and Bradley. Eleven-year-olds on the team are Sigel, Saunders, Mercer and Covert. Four boys are 10. They are Stewart, Dunphy, Phalen and Slain. The rookies include Henry and Underwood—both 9 years old.

SO NOW YOU KNOW WHAT IT'S LIKE DEPT.—A week ago Sunday was a black day in the history of Dixon baseball when the Fazzi Appliance squad lost an Illinois Amateur Baseball League game to Twin City by a 25-7 score. One consolation that the Fazzi squad may now derive is that Twin City has finally learned how it feels to get beat that bad.

The Sterling-Rock Falls nine traveled to Freeport Sunday and watched 30 home team runs cross the plate as it lost 30-3. Freeport smacked 20 hits off Vern Smith, Gordon Call and Wayne Wagenkecht. Call was the guy who set down the Fazzi nine.

SO THERE YOU ARE, FAZZIS. You can rejoice now that your worst tormentors have received what was coming to them. Say though, don't you still have a game with Freeport?

OTTAWA'S PIRATES CLAIMED a share of the North Central Conference summer baseball league crown with a 7-6 win over Rock Falls. The game went 1 1/2 innings—a continuation of a previously rain-halted contest.

In the last inning, Rock Falls rallied as Kolb beat out a bunt and stole second. He was thrown out, however, as he tried to score on a single to center.

OTTAWA, WITH A SEASON record of 7-5, tied DeKalb's Barbs for the crown. Sterling and Rock Falls, each with a 5-7 mark, ended up in a deadlock for third.

Carrott Gets Yanked Out by Roots

IT LOOKS AS IF a bad Carrott got in the stew down at Quincy. Recently, Montgomery Carrott, president of the Quincy Gems in the Three-I League, announced that the team was losing money and would fold after five more home games. Monday night, however, Mr. Carrott was yanked out by the roots and a new board of directors for the team was elected, headed by Ralph J. Keller.

A spokesman for the new group said that it would assume all outstanding debts and the team would finish the season. Quincy, currently in fifth place in the seven team league, is an affiliate of the New York Yankees. Perhaps the American League champs can spare a sawbuck to help keep the minors alive. After all, the Yankees can't start all their players at Denver.

Big Ten Denies 'Look' Charges Magazine Claims Schools Give Full Aid to Gridders

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (P)—Big Ten officials today termed a national magazine's assertions of "full ride" football scholarships in the conference as exaggerated and an attempt at "sensationalism."

The story, appearing in today's issue of the biweekly publication Look, came just before a Big Ten meeting scheduled several months ago for Saturday and Sunday.

Look stated all Big Ten schools except Illinois gave "full ride" scholarships to one or more football players last fall and that some athletes, namely Ron Kramer of Michigan, received aid through an "escape" clause in the Big Ten code.

Bark Worse Than Bite Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, said, "Look's headline bark, which says, 'Football Scandal Hits the Big Ten,' is worse than its reportorial bite. On a fair reading the article does no more than report that we have problems in our honest efforts to keep athletics within their educational framework. And that we frankly acknowledge, as evidenced by the appointment and work of our special committee which will make its report this week."

The special committee which "has been engaged for the past seven months in making a critical self-appraisal of conference affairs," was appointed after the winter meetings and this week's reporting date was set at conference meetings last May, Wilson said.

Look's story said in addition to Kramer, other Michigan players received financial help though they did not make qualifying grades in university courses. Kramer, the magazine said, received $560 grant from the school.

Base for Loan Michigan's Dean of Men Walter

B. Rea said assistance to Kramer was based on "need," which Look called a "loophole" in the Big Ten code.

Rea, however, denied Look's claim that Kramer had a below "C" average.

Look's article brought a deluge of comment from officials throughout the Big Ten. These included explanations of how many athletes received how much aid and what scholastic average must be maintained by an athlete receiving aid.

Minnesota athletic director Ike Armstrong said the Big Ten has known "for three or four" years of Minnesota's off-campus work program without challenging its legality. In short, the Gopher work-for-pay program is split up with athletes doing most of their off-campus chores during the off season.

Poor Terminology Stu Holcomb, former Purdue football coach and now athletic director at Northwestern, said the magazine contained "poor terminology."

"There's no such thing as an athletic scholarship in the Big Ten," Holcomb said. "Conference athletes get their financial help on grants-in-aid, based on scholarship and need. I don't know what Look means by 'full scholarship.'"

Moats' Squad Wins at LaSalle

Final Inning Run Defeats Bowman's

Moats Trucking of the City Softball League made a successful entry into the LaSalle Fastball tournament at the Tri-Cities Hegeler Park last night as it defeated Bowman's 1-0, on a late rally.

The game was a tight pitcher's battle for six innings between Jay Farwell of Moats and Dick Taylor of the Bowman nine. Farwell retired the Bowman's in the top of the seventh to set the stage for the game's only run.

Frank Miller worked Taylor for a walk to start the seventh. Larry McMillan laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt, moving Miller to scoring position at second base. The next batter made an infield out, and Miller scooted to third.

Things looked dark as the best Johnny Parks could come up with was a slow infield grounder but, in his haste to make the final put out and force the game into extra innings, the Bowman first baseman dropped the ball. Parks was safe and Miller came in from third with the only run of the game.

Farwell went all the way to get credit for the win. The Moats hurler was tight in the pinches and fanned 13 men.

Moats will meet Brozman's of Joliet in a quarter-final game at 9 p.m. Thursday. Other quarter-final action in the meet sends the Bruno All-Stars of LaSalle against Arlington AAA, Kewanee CIO against the LaSalle Ki-Johns and the Streator All-Stars against Rockdale.

Bad Fields Halt Church Softball City, Future Leagues Set But Action Is Unlikely

Rain yesterday morning left Reynolds Field softball diamond in a sea of mud and, as a result, two Church Softball League games were postponed last night.

League-leading Harmon Methodist was scheduled to tangle with Methodist and second place Grace, the only team with a real good shot at Harmon's lead, was due to meet Brethren before the postponement.

The league standings show Harmon on top with a 5-1 mark and Grace one-half game behind with 4-1. St. Paul's, scheduled to face Second Baptist Thursday night, is third with 4-2, while Bethel and Methodist are tied for fourth at 3-2. St. Pat. is sixth with 4-3 and Amboy Baptist seventh with 3-3.

Brethren with 1-4, Immanuel with 1-5, Second Baptist with 0-1 and Foursquare, who has dropped from the league, with 0-4, round out the league.

Scheduled action in the City Softball League tonight sends Moats Trucking against Franklin Grove in the opener and third-place Fazzi TV against the league-leading Dixon Merchants. Fazzi TV is the only first division team with a shot left at the Merchants.

The Merchants are on top with a 6-1 record, followed by Moats with 4-2. Fazzi is in third with 4-3 with Sterling in fourth at 3-4. Franklin Grove with 2-6 and National Guard with 1-4 round out the standings.

In the Future League's American Division, second place VFW is scheduled to face fifth place Freeman Shoe at Borden Field, while the second place Dixon Police tangle with the league-leading Fazzi nine. Dixon Rec, also tied for second, is idle.

In the National Division, the last place Lawton nine will face the fourth place K. of C. outfit, while league-leading Shrine Club, with a chance to clinch sole ownership of the division title, meets fifth place Hal Roberts.

Condition of all fields this morning was poor and it is very likely that all of tonight's games will be postponed—although no official word had been received this morning.

Machen, Lane Get Better Rating From Ring Magazine

NEW YORK (P)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore's easy knockout of James J. Parker strengthened the ancient battler's position as the No. 1 contender for the vacant heavyweight throne and earned him Ring magazine's "fighter of the month" award.

The Ring's monthly ratings, released today, showed only one major change among the heavyweights. Undeclared Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., advanced from 10th to eighth as the result of his knockout of Cuba's Nino Valdes, once the top-ranking heavyweight contender.

Southpaw Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., was advanced back into the first ten among the lightweights following his upset conquest of Ralph Dupas of New Orleans. Lane was given the sixth spot while Dupas was demoted from second to fifth.

The top three ratings:

Carter Favored

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (P)—Harold Carter was an 8-5 favorite to whip Bob Satterfield in their nationally televised heavyweight bout tonight.

The edge goes to the 22-year-old Linden, N.J., puncher on the basis of his March 21 decision over unpredictable Bob. The two fighters battled to a draw in Miami Feb. 28.

Lary gave up a two-run triple to Jackie Jensen and a two-run homer to Mickey Vernon, but the Tigers backed him with homers by Al Kaline and Ray Boone, beating Bob Porterfield with a two-run seventh.

Auburn Back Runs Well In 20-Minute Scrimmage

EVANSTON, Ill. (P)—Coach Curly Lambeau sent his College All-Stars through their first scrimmage and saw his offense, led by All-Americans Hopalong Cassidy and Earl Morrall, stopped cold.

The collegians, pointing for their Aug. 10 date with the Cleveland Browns, National Football League champion, wound up their 12th day of practice with a defense-dominated 20-minute scrimmage.

The All-Stars put up a formidable backfield with Morrall, the former Michigan State quarterback; halfbacks Cassidy of Ohio State and Don McIlhenny of Southern Methodist; and Notre Dame's Don Schafer at fullback.

But that foursome and other outstanding collegians hardly deterred the defenders sparked by Maryland's Bob Pellegrini, Tony Sardisco of Tulane and Preston Carpenter, the defensive back from Arkansas.

"Silent Joe" Childress, Auburn's fullback, and Hal Burnine, the 1955 NCAA pass-receiving champion from Missouri, made the only appreciable gains for the offensive unit.

Childress, voted the collegian

SAVE STROKES

By JULIUS BOROS

Written for NEA Service

A common fault of the average golfer is trying to hit the ball too far.

This will only get him in trouble. The average player should gladly settle for a drive of between 175 and 200 yards. He should put his eyes on a spot that far down the fairway. Control of the ball is vastly more important than distance.

Many fail to recognize the swing as actually being two swings in one—the backswing and the downswing. To carry the club back or to the right, the player must be on his right foot. To carry it down, he must be on his left. No one can make any sort of a proper pivot on the backswing with his weight on the left foot, nor can he follow through naturally with the weight on the right foot as he swings through.

Pivoting plays an essential part even in walking. A person does not walk solely with his legs. He balances himself on one and pivots to place the other in a forward position. Pivoting in a golf shot is just as simple as pivoting in walking.

18 Men Beat DCC Bogey

Eighteen of 61 golfers, paced by Frank Leasner and Bill Witzleb's 35s, beat bogey at Dixon Country Club's Men's Night yesterday.

Grouped at 36 were C. Len Johnson, Ed O'Malley, Ken Detweiler and Wilson Dysart. Gene Krahenbuhl, Don Raymond and J. C. Patterson had 37s, while Bud Utley, Dale Sennett, Arch Sample and Marv Sisler fired four-under-par 38s.

Five golfers sneaked under the bogey wire with 39. This group included Bill Short, Jim Hey, Don Sweet, Joe Miller and Harry Fritz.

Robinson Gives Zip to Brooklyn Adcock Both Hero, Goat As Dodgers Nip Braves

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

Jackie Robinson's an old guy who can still get the job done.

He came off the bench to give Brooklyn's third-place world champions the zip they needed to stay healthy after losing seven straight to National League-leading Milwaukee. He delivered the missing snap and crackle to pop the Braves 3-2 Tuesday night with a two-run homer and a tie-breaking ninth-inning single.

Joe Adcock hit his usual home run against the Dodgers but he pulled a rock as a baserunner, killing off a ninth-inning rally.

While the Dodgers were struggling back to within four games of the Braves, Cincinnati's second-place Redlegs split a two-night double-header with the New York Giants, losing 5-1 and then winning 7-3.

Cards Win

The fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals handed Pittsburgh a sixth straight loss 7-0 on Murry Dickson's five-hitter. The Chicago Cubs came from behind to beat Philadelphia 9-4 with Monte Irvin driving home five runs.

Cleveland's runner-up Indians showed they were still breathing in the American League "race," closing to within nine games of New York as Early Wynn's three-hitter ended the Yankees' winning streak at six games 5-0.

Detroit smacked Boston 6-4 behind Frank Lary's four-hitter. Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-1. Washington beat the Chicago White Sox 4-3 on a wild pitch.

Robinson, 35 and in his 10th season, had been out of the Dodger lineup for 16 games because of a pulled groin muscle. He got three hits in four trips and appears certain to play third again tonight.

Adcock smacked his 24th home run in the second inning off Carl Erskine, but Jackie did him one better with a two-run poke, his eighth, in the bottom half of the frame against Gene Conley. That's the way it stood until the ninth, when with one out, Ed Mathews hit his 20th homer to tie it.

Erskine Exits

Hank Aaron followed with a double and Erskine gave way to Clem Labine. Adcock was walked intentionally, but Bobby Thomson got a scratch single that loaded the bases. Logan then grounded to Robinson, who threw to the plate to force Aaron as Adcock thundered home, believing catcher Rube Walker was going to try for a double play on Logan at first. Walker held up on the throw and tagged Joe instead.

JACKIE ROBINSON Hits Like Veteran

Pee Wee Reese opened the Dodger ninth with a single off reliever Dave Jolly and moved to second on a sacrifice. After a walk, Robbie's single brought Pee Wee home.

The Cardinals scored three in the first off Red Minger, getting two on Rip Repulski's single, then wrapped it up with four in the fourth. The Bucs used onetime bonus infielders Eddie and Johnny O'Brien on the mound over the last four frames and each gave up just one hit.

Irvin Aids Cubs

Irvin made it easy for the Cubs with a single and a double in addition to his 11th home run run with two on that overhauled a 3-2 Phil lead in the fifth. Sam Jones won it with Stu Miller taking the defeat.

Wynn, winning his 13th, breezed as Hal Naragon hit a two-run triple in the second and Rocky Colavito socked a two-run homer in the seventh. Johnny Kucks lost his sixth.

Lary gave up a two-run triple to Jackie Jensen and a two-run homer to Mickey Vernon, but the Tigers backed him with homers by Al Kaline and Ray Boone, beating Bob Porterfield with a two-run seventh.

CASE OF THE PETRIFIED PORKER—A little pull, some sturdy push and a tight handhold about the ears will move any little piggie. That's how it was with the nervous pig, above, frightened by the floodwaters surging through Giftz, Germany. The townspeople finally got him to a safe place. The sudden flood hit the Eder River valley town after a heavy rainstorm.

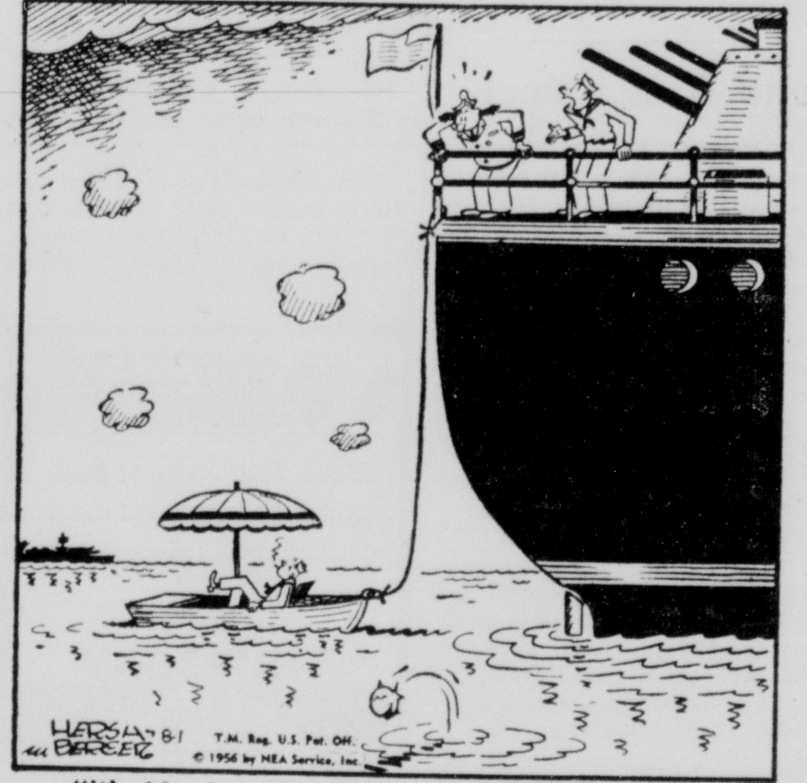

FREE-WHEELING GLOBE-BIKER—Resting on his bicycle, Californian Abbot Dugally takes a breather in Copenhagen, Denmark. Dugally, with 37 pounds of luggage, has toured North and South America and Africa during the past four years, and is now wheeling through Europe. He began his trek with a cash outlay of $8.25, but gets along on donations dropped in the bike's coin box by folk along the way.

HAIL OF A NOTE—William McNamara, who farms north of Walker, Iowa, looks over some of the 95 acres of corn he lost in a tremendous hailstorm. Twenty-four windows in his house were broken by fist-size hailstones. Other hail came down in larger chunks and slabs. Some went through the roof.

BORED WITH EDUCATION—Graduation exercises are nothing but a headache to Will Gravelly. As fellow kindergarten students go through their routines he rubs his study-weary brow on the school stage at Martinsville, Va.

"It's his day off duty, sir, and he couldn't get shore leave!"

"Hey, Mom! Pop and 19 flies just came in!"

TV Outmodes Embarrassing Cop's Query

LOS ANGELES (P)—Those roadside conversations between motorists and policemen that usually begin, "Where's the fire, Buddy?" may some day be a thing of the past.

Police Chief William H. Parker predicts personal contact between officers and motorists will be eliminated in the future, with closed circuit television spotting and photographing traffic violations.

The photographs would be mailed to the offender and to the traffic court, he told a meeting at which Los Angeles received a national safety award.

Accuse Former Freeport Man On Bad Checks

DENVER (P)—The FBI is preparing an information charging a former Wisconsin gubernatorial candidate with passing worthless checks in Denver.

Ralph F. Amoth, 53, a native of Freeport, Ill., is accused of passing three checks—for $63, $100 and $127—drawn on the Security State Bank of Madison, Wis.

Amoth was arrested last week and is being held in jail, unable to post bond set by a United States commissioner.

His home is in Madison. He was the Progressive Party's candidate for Wisconsin governor in 1944 and 1946.

Scouts Feted for Rescuing Marine

EL TORO, Calif. (P)—Eleven Sea Scouts from Anaheim have received an official thank you for saving the life of a Marine pilot downed off Catalina last Tuesday.

The boys, at sea on an eight-day cruise, joined the huge search for the missing plane and found the pilot, M/Sgt. George V. Mikkelsen Wednesday after he had floated in the water all night. Another man aboard the plane was lost.

Maj. Gen. Marion L. Dawson, commander of the 3rd Marine Aircraft Wing, brought the 11 youngsters and Mayor Charles Pearson of Anaheim to the Marine Air Base here Tuesday and treated them to fried chicken, an inspection tour and regimental parade.

Both Parties Now Have Completely New Picture

Stassen Strikes at Nixon; Kefauver Out of Running

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (P)—What a switch in men and parties!

Ten days ago, so far as is known, Harold E. Stassen and Sen. Estes Kefauver still yearned to move their furniture into the White House. Now Stassen says he has given up on the presidency permanently. Kefauver has given up this year, at least.

Nine days ago this month's political conventions looked like a picnic for the Republicans, a cat-and-dog fight for the Democrats. Now the opposite may be true, thanks to Stassen and Kefauver.

GOP Picture
When the sun came up July 23 this was the picture:

1. Stassen, a presidential candidate in every election since 1944, wasn't running this year. He didn't have a chance anyway. President Eisenhower was running. There was no reason to think Stassen still didn't have the bug for 1960.

Meanwhile, he seemed content with his job as Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament.

2. The Republicans' professional politicians seemed to have everything so neatly arranged that the delegates to the convention, opening Aug. 20, would have trouble finding something to do until the time came to rubber-stamp the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket again.

Before sundown July 23 Stassen began talking so loudly and long that the Republican convention may turn into a contest over the vice presidency.

Stassen said private polls showed Vice President Nixon would be a "burden" on the ticket—he says now Nixon would lose millions of votes—and should step aside in favor of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as Eisenhower's running mate.

Suggested He Resign
Republican pros jumped him in a hurry, even suggested he resign. Instead, he talked more. Now Eisenhower has permitted him a month's leave to go out and stir up Republican delegates against Nixon.

Then on Sunday Stassen said he is not only not a candidate to be Eisenhower's running mate this year but has forever taken himself out of consideration for the presidency and vice presidency.

Tuesday, before the sun came up, this was the Democratic picture:

A hot convention, opening Aug. 13, with Adlai Stevenson and Kefauver the front-running contenders for the presidential nomination and New York's Gov. Averell Harriman and others scrambling for it too.

Stevenson had a good edge in indicated strength but Kefauver, who practically exhausted himself in 1952 and again this year in pursuit of the Democratic nomination, still hoped, or so it seemed he'd be tapped.

Kefauver Drops Out
Tuesday, Kefauver, suddenly and unexpectedly, announced he was quitting the race in favor of Stevenson and would give him his support. He said he realized he didn't have a chance.

Harriman says he's still running. So there may still be a fight at the convention. And a struggle over a civil rights plan, between Northern and Southern Democrats could bust the convention and the party wide open.

But at the moment things look calmer for the Democrats. Kefauver and Stevenson had nice things to say about each other. This was a switch from their bitterness in the primaries. Kefauver weeks ago had said he had been unpleasant about Stevenson only because "I got mad and lost my head."

Not Alarmed by Delay in Final Contract: Officials

By JOHN MOODY
PITTSBURGH (P)—Most top officials of the steel industry said today they are not alarmed by the delay in a final settlement of the month-old strike that appeared ended last Friday when a master agreement was worked out.

A few said it's possible some unsolved issues could develop into a major block, but none expected they would.

The strike closed more than 85 per cent of the nation's steel mills July 1. It has idled more than 100,000 workers in steel-related industries as well as 650,000 United Steelworkers.

Negotiations are continuing with 39 steel companies in New York. Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation Service, said in Washington he is not disappointed by the delay. Time is needed to get terms written into contract language, he said.

Most predict a final settlement late this week.

Last Friday's agreement would give workers an hourly package increase variously estimated at from 45 to 55 cents an hour during the life of a three-year, no-strike contract. Workers were earning an hourly average of $2.46 an hour.

Some of the issues left unsolved include incentive pay, local plant working rules and routine established in some plants by long practice.

Both the companies and union speak favorably of increasing the number of workers who receive incentive pay—premium pay for work done in addition to an average set by union-management agreement.

But the union wants the incentive pay program increased more rapidly than the companies feel they can do it on an orderly basis. Some steel firms have as many as 60 per cent of the workers on incentive plans while others have no more than 30 per cent.

He's Happy About Keef's Withdrawal

FRANKFORT, Ky. (P)—Gov. A. B. Chandler showed elation over the withdrawal of Sen. Estes Kefauver from the race for the Democratic presidential nomination and told a press conference "Truthfully, I now think I will be second on the first ballot at Chicago."

Kefauver urged his supporters to back Adlai Stevenson.

Chandler's first reaction when hearing the news from his executive secretary was "Well, this beats them both."

Later at a press conference he said "This definitely moves me up into a better position. For one thing it makes me one of three candidates instead of four."

Dead End Street

COVINGTON, Ky. (P)—There are three roads of no return for employees of the Kentucky Highway Dept. Padding the expense account, joy riding in state automobiles and the use of state materials to build private roadways all lead to immediate dismissal, says Deputy Highway Commissioner Martin Petty. And he told a meeting of highway engineers, foremen and maintenance supervisors "no Joe Blow will get your job back for you."

Birthday Cake Too Late For Cancer-Afflicted Boy

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (P)—Four-year-old Chris Barnes' birthday cake came too late.

The brown-haired, blue-eyed boy with "a smile like the littlest angel" died just after midnight of cancer of the blood.

His mother was more or less reconciled to it. A few hours before, while Chris was receiving his eighth blood transfusion, she quietly observed:

"He's a very sweet, very affectionate little boy. I feel he belongs to God and I feel privileged to have had him even for such a short time."

Mrs. Doris Barnes learned only 30 days ago he had the disease.

Chris was in an Albuquerque hospital about two weeks. The nurses took to his bright smile and likened him to "the littlest angel."

Mrs. Barnes, a school teacher with three other children, said doctors told her they had seen few such cases develop so rapidly.

Chris would have been five Friday, but his mother decided to hurry up a little birthday party—just in case. It was to have been today.

Shrinking Trees?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—Any policemen who can't tell a tree from a limb may find himself out on one. Police Chief Carl Heustis complained that on two occasions emergency sanitation crews were summoned by police cruisers to remove "a tree across the street," and that in each case all that was found was a small limb about an inch in diameter.
